The following article tells the motto of the Mei Fu Group. It is only for the purpose to help you get the idea of the word "motto". The content has no relation to your composition.

Artists seek perfection. Athletes try to break records. The Mei Fu Group tries to do both as it seeks to innovate and surpass itself in the quest for perfection and inner growth. The Mei Fu Group shares its success with all of society by marking contributions to various social causes and groups, and by improving the quality of life with each development.

Through its own success the Mei Fu Group seeks to benefit society with better buildings and higher standards. Our motto: "creating models for the future" will be carried into our new ventures in overseas construction and manufacturing. This motto is the foundation of our success as well as the driving force that leads us to better designs, better innovations, and better products.

Question

Do you think "motto" is necessary in one's life? Why or why not? What is your life motto? How does it influence you in your life journey? Please write a composition entitled your own motto. The number of words is limited to 200 words (no more than 200 words). (100%)
