Part B – Reading Comprehension Choose the best answer

Article #1

Printing is one of the most important means of communication. Without it you would not now be reading this passage. Even the development of radio and television has not diminished the importance of printing.

The first printing was done from wood blocks one letter at a time by hand. This was a slow process, requiring much skill and patience, and every page of every book had to be cut separately.

A great step forward was the use of movable type. The Chinese discovered this in the 11th century, but it was not known in Europe until about 1440. In this method of printing, individual letters were made from separate pieces of metal. If these letters were linked over and pressed on to paper, they would print the words. When the printing was finished, the letters could be taken apart and rearranged to print something else.

One of the first European books to be printed in movable type was Johannes Gutenberg's 42-line Bible. The first book to be printed likewise in English was about the history of Troy. It was printed in Flanders in 1474 by an Englishman, William Caxton. In 1476 he returned to England and established a printing press at Westminster. Altogether he printed nearly 80 books, many being his own translations from the French.

31. Printing is important because

- A. it is a Chinese invention.
- B. it has made reading books possible.
- C. it has helped to develop radio and television.
- D. William Caxton printed 80 books in English.

32. The use of movable type was first introduced by

- A. William Caxton.
- B. the Europeans.
- C. Johannes Gutenberg.
- D. The Chinese.

33. According to the passage, the use of movable type was considered as a "great step forward" because

- A. it did not need a lot of wood.
- B. it required less skill and patience.
- C. the printing letters could be reused.
- D. every page of every book required individual carving.

One day Nasreddin borrowed a big pot from his neighbor Ali. The next day he returned the pot with a small one inside. "That's not mine," said Ali. "Yes, it is," said Nasreddin. "While your pot was staying with me, it had a baby."

One week later Nasreddin asked Ali to lend him the pot again. Ali gladly agreed and waited to see if Nasreddin would again give him back two pots. One week passed. Then another. In the end, Ali lost patience and went to demand his pot. "I'm sorry, your pot has died," said Nasreddin. "Died!" said Ali. "How can a pot die?" "Well, you believed me when I told you that your pot had a baby, didn't you?"

35. Nasreddin gave Ali an extra small pot in the beginning because _____.

- A. he and Ali were really good friends
- B. he had too many pots at home
- C. he wanted to have more baby pots
- D. he wanted to trick Ali

36. Why did Ali take Nasreddin's words that his pot had a baby?

- A. He had no reason to doubt it.
- B. He wanted to keep the small pot.
- C. He had seen pots having babies before.
- D. He believed in whatever Nasreddin said.

37. It can be inferred that Ali had _____ at the end of the story.

- A. neither of the pots
- B. the big pot
- C. the small pot
- D. both pots

Article #3

In the early part of the twentieth century, racism was widespread in the United States. Many African Americans were not given equal opportunities in education or employment. Marian Anderson (1897-1993) was an African American woman who gained fame as a concert singer in this climate of racism. She was born in Philadelphia and sang in church choirs during her childhood. When she applied for admission to a local music school in 1917, she was turned down because she was black. Unable to attend music school, she began her career as a singer for church gatherings. In 1929, she went to Europe to study voice and spent several years performing there. Her voice was widely praised throughout Europe. Then she returned to the U.S. in 1935 and became a top concert singer after performing at Town Hall in New York City. Racism again affected Anderson in 1939. When it was arranged for her to sing at Constitution Hall in Washington, D.C., the Daughters of the American Revolution opposed it because of her color. She sang instead at the Lincoln Memorial for over 75,000 people. In 1955, Anderson became the first black soloist to sing with the Metropolitan Opera of New York City. The famous conductor Toscanini praised her voice as “heard only once in a hundred years.” She was a U.S. delegate to the United Nations in 1958 and won the UN peace prize in 1977. Anderson eventually triumphed over racism.

38. According to this passage, what did Marian Anderson do between 1917 and 1929?

- A. She studied at a music school.
- B. She sang for religious activities.
- C. She sang at Town Hall in New York.
- D. She studied voice in Europe.

39. Toscanini thought that Marian Anderson _____.

- A. had a very rare voice.
- B. sang occasionally in public.
- C. sang only once in many years.
- D. was seldom heard by people.

40. Anderson's beautiful voice was first recognized _____.

- A. at the Lincoln Memorial.
- B. in Washington, D.C.
- C. in Europe.
- D. at the United Nations.

41. This passage shows that Anderson finally defeated racism in the U.S. by _____.

- A. protesting to the government
- B. appealing to the United Nations
- C. demonstrating in the streets.
- D. working hard to perfect her art.

Article #4

Most American kids love Halloween treats, but a bucket of Halloween candy can be a dentist's nightmare. Some parents try to get rid of half of the candy after their children go to bed, but dentists say parents also need to separate the good kinds of treats from the bad.

It is not exactly what a child eats that truly matters, but how much time it stays in his mouth. According to pediatric dentist Dr. Kaneta Lott, the most damaging stuff is something that is sticky or very hard and thus stays in the mouth for a long time. This is because we all have bacteria in our mouths. When we eat, the bacteria take our food as their food and produce an acid that destroys the surface of the teeth, causing cavities to form. The longer the food stays in the mouth, the more likely cavities will develop. Therefore, potato chips are worse than candy because they get stuck between teeth. For the same reason, raisins and crackers are not the best choice. Hard candies take a long time to consume and are also a bad choice for Halloween treats.

If children really love candy, dentists recommend that they eat chocolate instead. Unlike hard candies, chocolate dissolves quickly in the mouth. Besides, chocolate contains tannins, which help to kill some of the bacteria in the mouth. But no matter what a child eats, brushing after each meal is still the best way to fight cavities.

42. What is the main purpose of this passage?

- A. To discuss how cavities can be treated.
- B. To point out the problems with Halloween celebrations.
- C. To tell parents what sweets are less damaging to their children's teeth.
- D. To teach parents the meaning of Halloween candies for their children.

43. Why are hard candies especially bad for teeth?

- A. They may break the child's teeth.
- B. They contain too much sugar.
- C. They help bacteria to produce tannins.
- D. They stay in the mouth for a long time.

44. According to the passage, which of the following is a better choice for Halloween treats?

- A. Chocolate.
- B. Crackers.
- C. Raisins.
- D. Potato chips.

45. According to the passage, which of the following is true of tannins?

- A. They are produced when the bacteria digest the food.
- B. They help to get rid of some bacteria in the mouth.
- C. They help chocolate to dissolve more quickly.
- D. They destroy the surface of the teeth.

Article #5

Every object tells a story. Even the most ordinary objects can present to us powerful images. Sometimes it is the ordinary nature of these objects that actually makes them so extraordinary. Such is the case with an old leather shoe in a museum in Alaska. At first glance it does not look like much. It is a woman's shoe of a style popular in the 1890s. But what is unique about this shoe is where it was found. It was discovered on the Chilkoot Pass, the famous trail used by the people seeking gold in Alaska. Who it belonged to or why it was left there is not known. Was it perhaps dropped by accident as the woman climbed up the 1,500 stairs carved out of ice? Or did she throw away goods that she didn't need in order to travel lighter?

Over 100,000 people with "gold fever" made this trip hoping to become millionaires. Few of them understood that on their way they would have to cross a harsh wilderness. Unprepared for such a dangerous journey, many died of starvation and exposure to the cold weather. The Canadian government finally started requiring the gold seekers to bring one ton of supplies with them. This was thought to be enough for a person to survive for one year. They would carry their supplies in backpacks each weighing up to fifty pounds; it usually took at least 40 trips to get everything to the top and over the pass. Whoever dropped the shoe must have been a brave and determined woman. Perhaps she was successful and made it to Alaska. Perhaps she had to turn back in defeat. No one will ever know for sure, but what we do know is that she took part in one of the greatest adventures in the 19th century.

46. The ordinary woman's leather shoe is considered unusual because _____.
A. it was an important clue to life in the past
B. it was found near a famous trail
C. it at one time belonged to a VIP
D. it was a fashionable shoe at that time.
47. According to this passage, many people who went to Alaska _____.
A. eventually became millionaires
B. brought with them many shoes
C. had conflicts with the Eskimos.
D. were not properly equipped
48. The Canadian government made gold seekers bring one year's supplies with them so that _____.
A. they would not die of hunger and cold
B. the army would have enough food for fighting a war.
C. they could trade these goods with the Eskimos.
D. the supplies would make Alaska prosperous.
